DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 2-16 and 18-22 allowed.
2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The prior art does not disclose "forming at least the end of the capillary of any of diamond, silicon or germanium" as required by independent claims 2 and 22. Yeung, et al (U.S. Patent 5,917,185 A) discloses a similar apparatus wherein the capillary is formed of silica (column 4, line 63), which is SiO₂, not Si as required by the claims. Although Si is one of the elements of SiO₂, the claim states that the capillary is "formed" of Si, not "comprising" Si, so the claim language is not open enough to allow for SiO₂. Further, the applicant's specification discusses a capillary made of silica (p. 15, line 12), with the tip formed of silicon (p. 17, line 24), so interpreting the claims in view of the specification leads to treating silica as distinct from silicon.

Independent claim 18 requires "a diamond tip" for the capillary; as discussed above, no prior art was found that provides a diamond tip to a capillary for laser spray ionization.

Independent claim 19 requires "a corona-discharge electrode is provided in the vicinity of the end of the capillary." Yeung discloses no such electrode and, while corona-discharge electrodes are well-known in the art, there would be no reason for one of ordinary skill in the art to combine one with Yeung's apparatus, as corona discharge electrodes are typically used for ionization, and the sample would already have been ionized by Yeung's laser spray ionization.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to MICHAEL MASKELL whose telephone number is (571)270-3210. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday-Friday 8AM-5PM EST.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Robert Kim can be reached on 571/272-2293. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 571-273-8300.
